VOICE Without Limits

Voice Without Limits is an introductory series covering the basics of voice development and songwriting processes.

In this course, we will define what music means to us, and break down our limitations to learn about different ways to sing, how to care for your voice, and how to get to know yourself better in order to turn YOU and your story into music.

Join us on our journey towards celebrating ourselves through expression and song!

Every other Wednesday,
starting September 23
12:30-2:00pm
